

My Name is Tran

My name is Tran. I came on a student visa from Vietnam, but there are no jobs available in my field back home. I stayed in the U.S. to work. I do not have any family in the US with status to apply for a visa for me, and there were no employment-based visas available to me. I am now undocumented.

Place your playing piece on the Undocumented Limbo Loop Start space.

My Name is Sue

My name is Sue. I am from Korea. I married a U.S. citizen. I came to this country with a green card.

Place your playing piece on the Path to Citizenship Start space.

My Name is Manuel

My name is Manuel. I fled the gangs in Honduras and traveled through Mexico to cross into the U.S. I do not have any family in the U. S. with status to apply for a visa for me, and there were no employment-based visas available to me. I am undocumented.

Place your playing piece on the Undocumented Limbo Loop Start space.

My Name is JAN

My name is Jan. The Polish economy is in the dumps. I came to the U.S. on a tourist visa and became a restaurant cook. There was no way for me to get a green card because I do not have family in the U.S. with status and there were no employment-based visas available to me. I am undocumented.

Place your playing piece on the Undocumented Limbo Loop Start space.

My Name is Lupe

My name is Lupe. I lost my farm in Mexico because trade agreements with the U.S. drove down the price of corn. My brother lives here, so I crossed into the U.S. and he helped me find work. He is undocumented, so he could not apply for a family visa for me. There were no employment-based visas available for me. I am undocumented.

Place your playing piece on the Undocumented Limbo Loop Start space.

My Name is Adama

My name is Adama. I fled Somalia because of the civil war. I got to come to the U.S. as a refugee. Some of my family still lives in refugee camps. After two years in the U.S. I got my green card.

Place your playing piece on the Path to Citizenship Start space.